Welcome -

Welcome to the eighth annual awards banquet sponsored by the Central Pennsylvania Chapter of the National Football Foundation and College Hall of Fame. Today, we will take a moment to recognize some of our finest scholar-athletes. These young men have demonstrated the type of characteristics that we admire in people.

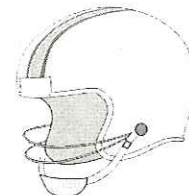

Many of our award winners will be heading off to college. Many of them will participate in football as they pursue a college education. Some may elect to stop playing organized football while they work to obtain personal goals. Some have already experienced college football and are ready to begin a professional career. Whatever the case, these young men have shown that they have the tools necessary to be successful in life.

The Central Pennsylvania Chapter of the National Football Foundation and College Hall of Fame is honored to recognize these young men for their scholarship, athletic performance, and citizenship.

We hope you enjoy the banquet!

Bill Asbury

Central Pennsylvania Chapter President

History -

The National Football Foundation and College Hall of Fame was founded in 1947 and is dedicated to mobilizing the constructive forces of amateur football, at all levels, for the benefit of society.

As stated most clearly by former President and Foundation “Gold Medal” recipient Dwight D. Eisenhower. “In football, in business, in the trades and professions, the normal urge to excel provides one of the most hopeful assurances that our kind of society will continue to advance and prosper. Morale... the will, this heart...we need not only in athletic teams and individuals, but collectively.”

To preserve and encourage these values in our nation’s youth, the National Football Foundation and College Hall of Fame helps to bring together all of the organized groups that play, coach, administer, support and report amateur football. It seeks to establish the true concept of the game as an amateur sport, and to gain recognition of the important role it plays in the preservation and advancement of our way of life.

The Central Pennsylvania Chapter is one of many chapters who combine with the national office to honor over 3,000 high school and college scholar athletes each year with nearly $1,000,000 in scholarships for undergraduate and graduate education. Now in its eighth year, the Central Pennsylvania Chapter is proud to honor 32 high school and 3 college scholar athletes for the 2004-2005 year. Our congratulations to each award recipient who was nominated by their schools.

Procedure for Selecting Award and Scholarship Winners -

At the beginning of the scholastic football season, the president of the Central Pennsylvania Chapter sent a letter and nomination form to each of the 32 high school principals, head coaches, and athletic directors in the central region. Each school was asked to nominate one senior member from their football team to receive an award from the Central Pennsylvania Chapter of the National Football Foundation and College Hall of Fame. Each nomination form included a high school transcript, and official test scores (SAT/ACT).

The nomination forms, transcripts and test scores were forwarded to the scholarship selection committee. This committee is composed of knowledgeable representatives from our local chapter who were responsible for evaluating each of the nominees using the following three criteria established by the National office:

40% Academic Achievement

40% Athletic Achievement

20% Extracurricular/Community Service Participation

The scholarship committee carefully evaluated each nominee and rank ordered them accordingly. The rank order was given to the Advisory Board and the top 10 individuals will also receive $1000 post graduate scholarships.

Making a Difference in the Community

Our commitment to the communities we serve...University Orthopedics Center physicians volunteer their time for athletic and strength training and provide medical coverage for football games to area high schools.

The University Orthopedics team has treated and rehabilitated professional athletes from NBA, NFL and Major League Baseball, as well as college, high school and weekend athletes.

We're proud to support the Central Pennsylvania Chapter of the National Football Foundation and College Hall of Fame. Congratulations to all the Scholar Athletes from University Orthopedics Center.

LYDELL MITCHELL

A Hall of Fame Career in Football and Life

Lydell Mitchell once envisioned himself as a corporate lawyer when his football playing days were over. He never figured he would be national sales manager of a bakery company in business with his former Penn State teammate and college roommate Franco Harris.

“I was a political science and history major but I had always thought I would be involved in business in some way,” Mitchell said. “I just didn’t think it would be on the sales, marketing and distribution side.”

Mitchell is now part owner and National Sales Manager of Super Bakery, Inc., a Pittsburgh based company that produces bakery goods such as fortified donuts, cinnamon buns and other breakfast items with an emphasis on providing better nutrition for school age children. The bakery goods are fortified with minerals, vitamins, and protein.

Mitchell was operating his own speakers’ bureau and Public Relations Company out of his Baltimore home in the mid 1980s when Harris asked him to get involved with one of Harris’ enterprises. “Franco had always stayed in touch and I started doing some sales and marketing things with squeezed orange juice and fruit bars,” Mitchell said. “We got involved with Super Bakery in 1990 and the rest just evolved.”

Mitchell said the fact that Super Bakery markets their products to schools is one of the most satisfying parts of his job. “I get to meet a lot of great people, really down to earth people,” he said. “You go to the various school systems and you talk to the administrators and teachers and that gives you the opportunity to be part of the fiber of the community. It’s a lot of fun.”

Mitchell and Harris also partnered to revive the Park Sausage Company in Baltimore. Park Sausage was a well-known east coast brand dating from 1951 but the owners were looking for a buyer when Harris and Mitchell took it over in September of 1996. It is now one of the nation’s foremost minority businesses.

Mitchell’s football career was equally successful. He is one of Penn State’s all-time great running backs (1969-71) and still holds several team records, including most touchdowns in a career (41) and one season (29 in 1971). For 22 years, he also held the single season rushing record (1,567 yards on 254 carries set in 1971) until it was broken by Larry Johnson.

Mitchell’s 29 TDs in 1971, which included three on pass receptions, made him the country’s leading scorer that year and a consensus All-American. He also finished fifth in the Heisman Trophy balloting, won by quarterback Pat Sullivan of Auburn. At the time, Mitchell set three NCAA records for TDs, TDs by rushing and most points per season and his 174 points is still the fourth best in NCAA history. Mitchell also is still sixth in career rushing at State with 2,934 yards on 501 carries and his 5.9 yards per rush average is third only to Ki-Jana Carter’s 7.2 yards and Larry Johnson’s 6.4 yards. Furthermore, he is seventh in career kickoff returns with a 24.6-yard average on 19 runbacks.

Last December, Mitchell’s college exploits of three decades ago were formally recognized when he was inducted into the National Football Foundation’s College Football Hall of Fame. He is the 19th member of the Penn State football program to enter the Hall of Fame, joining 14 former players and four coaches.

After graduating from Penn State, Mitchell went on to an outstanding career as a halfback with the Baltimore Colts, San Diego Chargers and Los Angeles Rams (1972-1980). He led the National Football League in receiving three different years and rushed for more than 1,000 yards during three seasons. He also was selected to the Pro Bowl three times.

Mitchell is a native of Salem, NJ, and currently lives in the Baltimore area with his wife, Jeanette. They have three sons.

Mitchell said he is extremely proud to be part of the Penn State family. “Penn State helped me in many ways and I’m more proud of the good education I received than the football side of it,” Mitchell said. “You have to give up a lot as an athlete and there are a lot of things going on in your life. People are worshiping you and are around you constantly and if you get caught up in it you can get a big head. Penn State helped me there, especially Joe (Paterno). Joe told us many things over the years, things he believed in and his philosophy, and we learned a tremendous amount from him. I wouldn’t trade that for the world.”

COLLEGE AWARD WINNERS 2004-2005

P.J. Brown, Juniata College

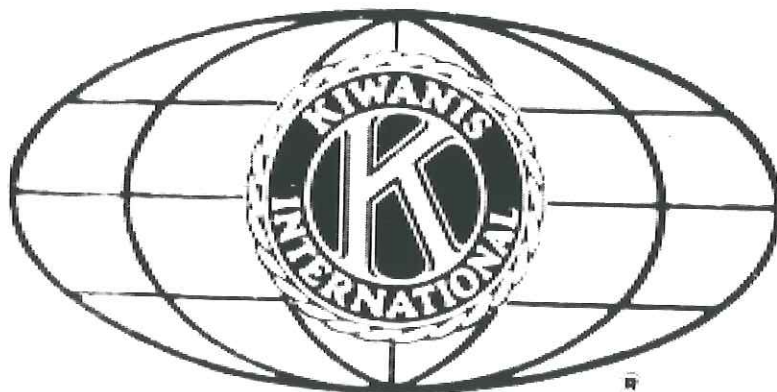

P.J. is the son of Lisa and John Brown of Ebensburg. He was the 2001 salutatorian of Central Cambria High School, where he excelled on the gridiron and in the classroom. At Juniata College P.J. made the transition from starting at Tight End to becoming a stalwart at the split tackle position. His work ethic has netted respect from his peers and lofty yardage totals for the Juniata College rushing attack over the years. Also P.J. is a two-time, ESPN The Magazine, Academic All-American. His off the field success is staggering as well. P.J. has earned a 3.9 G.P.A. in the Biology/Pre-Med. program at Juniata. His professional endeavors have included serving as a research fellow for the American Physiological Society and completing a Harvard research fellowship. P.J. has also worked in the community as a volunteer fireman. He plans on attending medical school after graduation. (PJK)

Jarrold Hendricks, Lock Haven University

Jarrold is the son of William and Valerie Hendricks of Rockton. He is a 2001 graduate of Dubois Area High School where he was a standout in the classroom, as well as on the football field. At Lock Haven, Jarrold entered his true freshman season as a starting offensive tackle. After the season, Jarrold was named the Dr. Ted Lyons Outstanding Freshman Award winner, which was selected by his peers. After a successful freshman season on the offensive line, Jarrold made the transition to the defensive side of the ball, where he became the starting defensive tackle for 2 seasons. In his sophomore season, Jarrold was recognized as the Bob and Carolyn Perry Academic Award winner for the sophomore with the highest G.P.A. Entering the spring of his senior year, Jarrold was asked to return to the offensive line. Jarrold took it in stride and started at offensive tackle his senior season. Midway through the season, he was once again asked to move back to his defensive tackle spot to sure up the defensive front. Jarrold finished his senior season with 35 total tackles in seven games, which allowed him to become a selection on the Pennsylvania State Athletic Conference's first team. Jarrold was also the recipient of the Edward L. McGill Leadership Award after his senior year, which is given to a player that demonstrates leadership to his teammates on and off the field. In the classroom, Jarrold is carrying a 3.39 overall G.P.A. in the Elementary Education program. He has also taken part in community projects and is raising money for the Easter Seals program. After graduation, Jarrold hopes to become a teacher and high school football coach in central Pennsylvania.

Andrew Guman, Penn State University

Andrew is the son of Mike and Karen Guman of Allentown, Pennsylvania. He was a four-sport standout at Allentown Central Catholic High School. While at Penn State, Andrew provided consistently strong play since first seeing action as a true freshman. His talent, intelligence and ability to stick opposing ball-carriers made him one of the defense's most integral components. Not only did Andrew bring his athleticism to Happy Valley, he also excelled in the classroom. Representing the true Student-Athlete, Andrew has earned numerous academic awards including Academic All-American, Academic All-District and Academic All-Big Ten. As a sophomore, he played in 12 games and showed glimpses of greatness throughout the year. During his junior season, he played in every game and capped the season by recording a career-high and team-leading 10 tackles (seven solo) in the season-ender at Michigan State. Although Andrew's senior season was plagued by injury, he courageously managed to recover and contribute in the final two victories of 2004. His 67 tackles ranked third on the team despite missing two games due to injury. Andrew's senior season and career was honored by his selection to play in the East versus West Shrine Game.
